Additional Rules of Entry

- Youth enrolled in 4-H, FFA, or other youth groups in a supervised dairy project are eligible to participate in this project.
- There are no limits on classes to be shown by any junior exhibitor.
- Dairy cattle to be exhibited at the fair must be identified on the forms provided by the Extension office. Exhibitor is to list the permanent identification and birth date of the animals in each class that they intend to show. This form is to be turned in to the superintendents during check-in on entry day, at which time the identification of the animal will be verified. This procedure meets the fair's record keeping requirement under Wisconsin DATCP. Permanent identification may be breed registration papers; sketch or photo of spotted cattle with birth date, dam, and sire identification information; tattoo; or ear tag. Exhibitors using ear tags for identification are responsible for replacing lost tags and reporting old and new tag numbers to the Extension office.
- For class definitions, see WDATCP Chapter ATCP 160.08 and 160.09 printed in the premium book.
- Exhibitors showing cattle not owned by the immediate family must complete and have on file a Wisconsin Dairy Management Project contract signed by the exhibitor and owner of the cattle.
- Exhibitors must turn in some form of record keeping (4-H Record Book pages, FFA Proficiency Award application, etc.) from their project to superintendents at check in.
- Purebred and Grade Red and White cattle must be red and white to show. No black cattle can be shown in this class.
- All health requirements must be met before the animals are entered. See Animal Health Regulations for Fairs and Shows in Wisconsin: 2015 Season section of this book.
- Animal exhibits will be inspected at check-in on the trailer for ringworm, mange, warts, and other health conditions. Suspect animals will be isolated and checked by the fair veterinarian. Infected animals will be sent home by the vet.
- In the event an exhibit animal is sent home for health reasons, a replacement exhibit identified on the exhibitor's pre-entry identification form can be checked in to replace it.
- Exhibitors are to call their own veterinarian for emergency or non-emergency animal health issues with their exhibits while at the fair. Exhibitors calling the fair veterinarian to see animals at the fair will be charged that doctor's normal stop charge plus treatment costs for the call.
- To be eligible to be shown at the fair, dairy animals must have been in the herd and part of the member's project for at least 90 days before Fair.
- Dairy cattle with horns longer than 1" (measured from the hair line), will not be permitted to show. Loosely attached spurs (not attached to the skull) are allowed.
- Only Touch-Up Clipping Is Allowed On The Fairgrounds. Major body clipping and grooming needs to be done at home before the fair for best results. Final grooming, including touch-up clipping may be done on the fairgrounds. The exhibitor must be the primary groomer with assistance from other current junior exhibitors. Family members may help with an exhibitor's final grooming, especially at younger ages, but the exhibitor is expected to be actively involved. Family includes parents/step-parents, legal guardians, siblings/step siblings, grandparents, aunts, uncles, and cousins.
- Power washers may not be used at the Fair and no electrical equipment is permitted in the wash rack areas.
- The fair expects exhibitors to maintain neat displays, focus exhibits on displaying cattle, and maintain adequate alley space for safely moving cattle and Fair visitors. To meet these goals:
  - Feed stored in display area is limited to no more than one stack of small, square bales, 4 bales high. Additional feed may be stored in trailers in designated parking areas.
  - Club show boxes may be placed at the outside of gates on ends of barn.
  - Clubs across alleys are jointly responsible to maintain a clear and clean 8-foot wide alley.
  - Areas along the inside walls of alleys to wash racks are not to be used for feed storage or show boxes.

- Decorating rules are found in Junior Fair General Rules section.
- Exhibitors in dairy cattle showmanship must show one of their project animals in the showmanship class.
- Tardy exhibitors in any class will be called to the ring two times, after which judging of the class will begin without the tardy exhibitors.
- Club herd is 5 animals, any age and breed shown by as many members possible of a single club. Superintendents will sign up club herds on entry day.
- For class definitions, see the WDATCP Chapter ATCP 160.08 and 160.09 section of this book.
- Registered and Grade Holsteins are shown in separate classes. Registered and grade cattle of all other breeds are shown together.
- Clubs or individuals not providing adequate care for their exhibit animals will be verbally warned by a department superintendent. If the situation is not resolved after one warning the superintendent will refer the offender(s) to the dairy project committee and Fair board livestock committee which may order the animals removed from the fair if improved care is not provided.
- All cows in milk exhibited at the Fair must be milked on Friday.
- All milk produced at the fair becomes the property of the Fair. Proceeds from the sale of milk at the Fair is used to cover the cost of milking supplies, maintenance of equipment above that provided by donor of the equipment, and the time of the milk house supervisor.
- The milk house hours will be set and posted at the Fair after superintendents consult with exhibitors.
- The use of privately owned portable milking equipment at the fair is prohibited.
- Exhibitors are responsible for insuring the safety and wholesomeness of the animal-derived food they are producing and exhibiting at the Fair. The milk house supervisor or their designee collects samples from each milking of each individual cow milked at the Fair for testing in the event contamination is found. The exhibitor causing such contamination will be responsible for financial losses incurred by the Fair, milk hauler, and dairy processor due to contaminated milk by illegal residues and may be liable for additional sanctions under state and federal regulations.

OUTSTANDING DAIRY EXHIBITOR AWARD

Selection based on the following criteria:

Recipient: A senior dairy cattle exhibitor at the Oconto County Fair who has developed a high degree of skill and knowledge over the years. The selection committee will emphasize both development of skills and their application in developing an outstanding dairy project.

Objectives: To encourage the development of dairy breeding and management skills by:

- A. Learning and using genetic selection and production management techniques to breed and develop genetically superior and productive dairy cattle;
- B. Developing the dairy cattle evaluation skills needed to select the best project animals available;
- C. Acquiring herdsmanship and showmanship skills needed to bring out the best in their dairy project; and
- D. Recognizing the exhibitor who has demonstrated knowledge, skill, ambition, and good sportsmanship through an outstanding total effort with the project.

Criteria:

- A. At least one of the exhibitor's dairy cattle entries must earn a blue ribbon in Danish judging competition at the Fair or place in the top 50 percent of their showmanship class.
- B. The individual must:
  1. Demonstrate outstanding showmanship skills. Must have earned a blue ribbon in dairy showmanship.
  2. Make all entries in a timely and accurate manner
  3. Be cooperative with fair officials and other exhibitors
  4. Maintain a neat and clean personal appearance
  5. Maintain cleanliness and properly display and care for their exhibit animals throughout the fair
  6. In the opinion of the selection committee, made the most of the resources available to them.
- C. In situations where there is close competition between a number of exhibitors, preference will be given to exhibitors who have not received the award in the past. When an exhibitor is clearly superior to all others, they will be selected without regard for past awards. The committee may award more than one award if it feels more than one exhibitor is deserving of recognition.

Selection Committee: County youth dairy project committee members and the UW-Extension Agriculture Agent will make the selection. Exhibitors showing in senior showmanship will have the opportunity to vote for their choice in an advisory ballot conducted following the conclusion of the dairy show at the fair.
