- Exhibit decorating rules can be found in the Junior Fair General Rules section.
- No sheep are to be unloaded from trailers on entry day until health papers are turned in and the animal is checked in by the superintendent. Make sure health papers are filled out completely.
- For class definitions see WDATCP Chapter ATPC 160.08 and 160.09 printed in the premium book.
- Real-time ultrasound will be used to determine carcass measurements on market lambs. The judge will not have access to ultrasound data before judging the market lamb classes. The exhibitor must be the primary groomer with assistance from other current Oconto County Youth Fair junior exhibitors. Family members may help with an exhibitor's final grooming, especially at younger ages, but the exhibitor is expected to be actively involved. - Exhibitors entering two market lambs will select one of their entries to be in the ultrasound carcass class. The selection must be reported to the superintendent immediately following weighing of the animals.

 - Exhibitors must wear garments made predominantly of wool while showing.
 - Exhibitors are judged on the fashion and fit of the wool garment they wear while leading a sheep
 - Garment may be purchased or constructed by or for exhibitor
 - Garments should be age-appropriate and lend elegance to the class. This is not a costume class.
 - Sheep led must be an ewe of any age, conditioned, fitted, and trained to lead
